BREWERY CUP STAYS IN CLARESHOLM

Cup-Holders' Supporters Wildly Enthusiastic Over Result

Let's Send High River Away Empty-Handed Too

Claresholm won the third game of the series of three for the Brewery Cup on Thursday last, thus asserting themselves of the retention of the trophy. Despite the prediction of Staveley's ardent supporter and prominent citizen "chick" MacGregor, that Staveley would roll the beer barrel home, and the many contentions and kicks that the Staveley players registered, Dodger Lewis, who supported, "threw them the lemon."

The first game of the series to 8, the score however being small indication of the trend of the play. In the first inning Staveley was dismissed for a 3-0 and the home team secured 4 runs against Siler's pitching. Buzz Geddes planting the ball just right field for a beautiful secured home run. The second was unproductive although the plays were tight, and in the third the holders added another run to their rapidly obtained lead.

During the fourth Dutch Gainer fumbled and as the result of a kick from Siler, Staveley received one run as a "gift of roses." Carigan had the misfortune to break his lat in this inning, but nevertheless evened the gift by adding one to Claresholm's total.

The fifth saw two more runs backing the home boys, but as the result of laxness Staveley secured three runs in the next session, Dutch Gainer scoring a non-stop run. The seventh and eighth were productive of little, but the first half of the ninth saw Staveley add a brace 4 to their effort, closing the game with the lion's share of the play to Claresholm. Although the score was 10-8, four runs were all that Staveley really deserved, the others being merely gifts to encourage them.

Second Game

This game was not exceptionally brilliant, neither team scoring until the sixth inning. Buzz Geddes pitched for Claresholm and Haynes delivered the pill for Staveley. Play was slow and with the exception of some very pretty work by Thompson at first base in the third inning, and a brilliant catch by Venesick in the fourth, nothing of great interest occurred.

The sixth saw 4 runs chalked to Staveley, Venesick proving himself a ball player by presenting his team with a snappy home run. The holders grabbed one run in this. The seventh was unproductive of anything except a general revving of the Staveley armory who appeared unable to give a correct decision, whether through inability or not we are unable to say, but leave to a general opinion. The eighth inning, however, saw the Staveley batsmen find Buzz Geddes' delivery, and a grand slam ensued, which when summed up presented a further 6 runs to the contenders.

This game finished with Staveley winning easily, running out on a score of 10 to 1. A brilliant feature of the evening was the "home run" scored by Roy Jenkins before the opening of play. The effort, however, was not appreciated by Mr. McLeary who will, we are afraid, be compelled to rebuke his slightly bent wind-sail. Despite exhortations to Paul Ozust to hit one for fessie he failed to register, much to the disappointment of Claresholm supporters.

The Final Game

Great excitement prevailed during the final game. The results that has existed between the two participating towns caused continual sporadic outbursts of rioting, which was, in the main, quite out of order. (The writers mourns for a quite good hat.)

The first inning was unproductive, as was the third, but Paul Ozust gave a further demonstration of his affection in the second by slamming another home run, thus giving the keg winners the lead. Staveley rang the bell for one run in the fourth, but Claresholm rooters waxed hilarious when the home boys copped "chick" MacGregor, that Staveley hurt in this inning but pluckily continued to play.

The fifth saw Staveley again sneak a little one, but to no avail, for the Elk's team replied with a further registration of 4 runs. The sixth again gave the contenders a single one and produced nothing to add to the score of the holders.

Dodger Lewis pitched excellently throughout the game, but Haynes seemed to have lost a lot of the pep with which he commenced.

Excitement waxed intense in the seventh when Staveley scored a brilliant two, bringing the score to 6-4. Fervent prayers and other things were uttered up by the sides, but the gods gave success to Claresholm who added one more run. The eighth and last (due to failure of light) was without fruition, leaving Claresholm the winners.

It was deeply regretted by the Claresholm Baseball Club management that the new ruling did not allow Pitcher Siler to play for Staveley. When he so ably assisted to bring back the trophy to Alberta there was no idea that such a contra tem was liable to arise. They desire to thank him for his assistance at Fernie and also to condole with him over his position of yesterday. Siler has many firm friends in Claresholm as he has in any other part of Alberta, and all of them were acute in their sympathetic feeling.

The team play a league game on Saturday at 3-45 against the Calgary Athletics in the Claresholm diamond. A large attendance is hoped for.

Following is the box score of Thursday's game:

Chick McGregor was heard to say that when he went down to get the keg to roll it home he found it was bolted down too tightly.

We should like to know the name of the gentleman who in the excitement of Thursday's ball game, was ecstasically kissed when Claresholm won. Lucky dog!

ANSWERS TO LAST WEEK'S QUESTIONS

193. How Fast Can Fish Swim?

Most fishes depend on speed to procure their food or to escape from their enemies. Their motion is produced mainly by the lateral movement of the tail fin, the other fins exerting chiefly the function of directing. Some fishes are not much behind birds in their rate of motion. Trout can travel through fresh water at 25 miles an hour. Off Florida a school of porpoises, travelling in wedge formation ahead of a ship, ported for two groups, turned and swam around the ship and back to their position ahead of it. As the boat was travelling 15 knots, it is evident they were travelling not less than 40 miles an hour.

194. What State Has a Reindeer Farm?

Reindeer have been bred in Alaska for a number of years, but the first attempt to raise them in the States was in 1922, when the tract from Norway, a herd consisting of 10 males and 50 females. They were turned loose in a fenced-in enclosure in the upper peninsula, where they will forage for themselves. The climate there is thought to be well adapted for their propagation, and the expectation is the herd will eventually so increase in numbers as to materially increase the country's most supply.

195. Why Do the Movie Pictures Move?

We get the impression of motion from a series of pictures each of which is absolutely motionless. Sixteen separate pictures are flashed on the screen each second, each picture showing a slightly different phase of the motion. One picture follows another so closely the change is not noticed, and the action seems continuous. In seeing the retina retains a visual image for a short time after the picture has ceased to act on the eye; a positive after-image of each picture remains until that picture has been removed and another has taken its place.

196. How Does the Automatic Train Control Work?

The track is divided into sections, or blocks, in which but one train is allowed at a time. Semaphore signals standing at each end of the block are automatically worked by the trains. In one system the signals are normally held in "safety" position by an electromagnet, wired into a track circuit. When a train enters the block the metal wheels and axle cause a short circuit across the rail to rail, the signal magnet is de-magnetized and the signal drops to "danger," meaning block occupied. By the automatic control, trains that run into a closed block are automatically stopped.

197. How Are Pictures Sent by Wire?

The film to be transmitted is wrapped around a transparent cylinder. A beam of light focused to a point is passed through the film and falls on a photo-electric cell, and the delicate current thus produced is amplified and sent through the wires to the receiving end. By advancing and rotating the cylinder spiral-like, the beam of light scans the entire picture. The light and shaded portions of the picture cause constant variations in the intensity of the light, and corresponding variations in the photo-electric current. At the receiving end the action is reversed. The intensity of a pencil of light falling on the sensitive film is controlled by the constantly varying current to such a nicety as to make a perfect reproduction of the picture.

198. What Is an Explosive?

A substance capable of extremely rapid conversion into gases occupying much greater volume than the original substance, as gunpowder, gun cotton, dynamite. Air is a gas mixture; two parts nitrogen, 1 part oxygen. When nitrogen is converted into any other form, or "fixed," it has tendency to return to its natural state, sometimes with much violence. The fixation of nitrogen may be termed a mechanical inversion of its explosion. Water is a chemical combination, 2 parts hydrogen, 1 part oxygen. When the hydrogen is torn from water by electrical energy, a spark will start its explosive recombination with the oxygen of the air to form water again.

199. Is Dynamite as Dangerous as Thought to Be?

The explosive element of dynamite is nitro-glycerine, absorbed by a porous material like sawdust or clay, to make it safer to handle. A violent shock like that from a blasting cap is required to explode it. It is better made than gunpowder, and it is at once stronger, more dependable and less sensitive. Only a small percentage of commercial dynamite is highly sensitive—40 per cent and upward; the most popular strength being 40 per cent, and for stumping 20 per cent. Mining and quarrying consume 75 per cent of all explosives.

5000 FACTS ABOUT CANADA

Canada's milestone year, celebrating the sixty years of Confederation, is fittingly emphasized in the 1927 issue of "5000 Facts about Canada," the famous tabloid cyclopaedia of the Dominion compiled by Frank Yeigh, the well known Canadian publicist and author. It is a tonic to read of our remarkable national progress, as tersely set forth in this unique booklet, under fifty chapters, from "Agriculture" to "Vaccines." The contents are more varied than ever, and will prove a revelation to the reader. No better way of making known our resources, wealth and prospects exists than this publication, and it should have a wide circulation this year. The Government could well afford to use it widely in this and other countries. Copies may be had from leading bookstores or by sending 35 cents to Canadian Facts Publishing Company, 588 Huron Street, Toronto 2, Canada.

Somebody wanted to know why the modern flappers' frocks were so excruciatingly funny. The reply that "brevity is the soul of wit" was most appropriate.

Messrs. Baxter and Baker, of the Government Telephones Department, Edmonton, were visitors at the local telephone office last week, and were well pleased with the conditions in the office here.

J. L. McMillion has had a guest staying with him, no less a person than his mother Mrs. E. McMillion of Okotoks. J. L. is a student here at Lethbridge where she went to Medicine Hall on another visit.

With the exception of the hail storm southwest of town last Saturday, the weather of the past week has been favorable for crops in this district. There have been showers on three days, and it has been reasonably hot.

It is definitely announced that the Prince of Wales will not fall in love with a Claresholm girl during his next visit. The elect of Claresholm and those who sapir much regret that this is so, (entirely true), there are not in the least disappointed.

Roy Jenkins, Staveland's first baseman, scored a smashing shot when he showed the ball through Don McCreary's windshield on Wednesday evening. It was a good thing that no one was hurt. The only thing that we deeply regret that the car didn't belong to a Staveland pastor.

Miss Weddick, who has been staying with Mrs. Walker of this city, has now returned to Calgary where she will resume her duties with the Welfare Association. She had a most enjoyable stay, but was sorry that the mosquitoes on the golf course were so voracious.

On Wednesday afternoon, the Nazarene Sunday school held its picnic out on Willow Creek. The weather was ideal. Wading in the creek, swimming, ball playing, etc., caused the hours to pass by all too quickly. A sumptuous dinner with all the essentials was greatly enjoyed, and a good time is reported by all.

On Tuesday evening Nick Taitinger, who was at the ball game was informed by the umpire that his farm buildings were on fire. He hurried home to find that his comparatively new barn and 40 tons of new hay were burned. He was partly covered by insurance. The fire is believed to have had its origin in the heating of the new hay.

A violent hailstorm struck the east side of the creek on Saturday night, but only cut a comparatively narrow swath which was however exceedingly destructive to the crops of those whom it struck. Among those who suffered almost total destruction were Mrs. Florence Smith, Delbert Reynolds, W. G. Hart and McKin & Nagle, who were all covered to some extent by insurance. The latter are said to have lost almost 200 acres of first grade wheat. Others who suffered were William Dewar, Dick Custer and Cliff Brown.

The dance given by Claresholm Baseball Club in the I. O. O. F. hall was a tremendous success. In spite of the heat there was a large attendance. Acting on the English Premier Baldwin's quote as a precedent, most of the men discarded their coats for comfort. The writer almost felt like discarding his — but felt slightly doubtful as to the propriety of this act. One gentleman was heard to declare that he would, in the words of the poet, give his "horse for a bath towel and a chunk of ice." We also heard a flapper say, as she gazed at her Lethbridge tresser-shed, "Oh, I do love to do the black bottom with you, you're so delightfully full of pep!" How sweetly naïve! Another flapper remarked to her escort as they toddled ecstatically, "You sure do know your onions!" Why didn't he chew gum?

Mr. and Mrs. J. Chilton gave an opening lawn dance on Tuesday evening last. It was a tremendous success, and a collection was taken which paid all expenses and left a residue of $80 which was sent to the Woods orphanage in Calgary. Among those present were the guests of honor from the States, Mr. Armstrong of Spokane, Wash., three nephews from Illinois, the Messrs. Rice of Chilton, Minn. The Claresholm hall was also present to a man, and danced to the music of the two-piece orchestra, with great verve. Although for some reason Tim preferred the corners, Paul became quite foxy with regard to Jessie Schram, and it was most evident that Scott preferred "my young." Miss Guy, the belle of the ball, sang so sweetly that she was soon surrounded by a large group of birdie fanciers who refused to separate until the dance terminated at about 2:30 a.m. We hope that Calahan is as successful a campaign as was the dance.

Lethbridge, July 30. — According to local C. P. R. divisional offices this morning, the average yield of wheat in the division is expected to exceed thirty bushels per acre. The average yield provided weather continues as good as it has been so far during the crop season. The record yield on the Lethbridge division was in 1915 when an average of 32 bushels to the acre was harvested with a total marketing of 38,800,000 bushels. The average yield per acre may exceed that of 1915, though the total acreage is not quite so high. The acreage sown to wheat this year, however, is about ten per cent in excess of the total acreage last year.

Howard Henkle, son of Harry Henkle, had his tonsils removed at the local hospital.

MUSIC FOR CLARESHOLM

The majority of the community has long felt that a Town Band would be highly desirable in our city. Apart from the fact that whenever a band has been required at Clareholm festivities an outside band has had to be invited at high cost, there are many other things which have been considerably enlightened and from which a much larger profit would have accrued had there been a city band to take part.

Clareholm possesses a large number of citizens who have pronounced musical talent and who, we are sure, would be public spirit enough to share their talents with their brethren if only a medium were organized. Enough money has been spent on outside bands during the last few years to have uniformed and equipped a most excellent home band. Let us try in the future to retain such a band in this community by applying them to the training and maintaining of our own musical element. With the construction of the new skating rink, a band will have great opportunities, the one contributing to the success of the other.

Good musical programs presented by the Chiefs d'oeuvre of the world's composers could be given, which would be certain of a large attendance. For who does not appreciate the cultural influence and great pleasure to be derived from musical expression. Concerts and oratorios can most advantageously be heard in large cities.
The smaller town, however, is mostly dependent on its own spirit of achievement and pride in its development, in order to obtain these advantages. Very many much finer towns than our city have organized a satisfactory band. Surely Clareholm with its rapid progress and educational advantages will not fail to recognize the importance of music in its communal life.

ALBERTA CROP REPORT

(Issued by the Department of Agriculture, Government of Alberta.)

Edmonton, July 30. Crops all over the province have made steady progress during the past two weeks and continue to give promise of the greatest harvest Alberta ever reaped, according to the information reaching the Department of Agriculture. Wheat is practically 100 per cent in head, the same is the case with barley and oats as reported to be from 60 to 75 per cent headed out.

Hot weather during this period has assisted materially in the growth of the crops, and with occasional showers the moisture stored in the ground is considered in most districts to be sufficient to carry the crop to maturity, and all grain in head is filling rapidly.
Harvesting of rye has commenced in a number of districts in the south of the province and a splendid yield is reported. Fall wheat has made especially good progress and promises a heavy crop. It is reported as unlikely that harvesting of wheat will be at all general until possibly August 20th.

A number of rather severe hail storms have done considerable damage in scattered districts, but these generally have been purely local in character and their effect on the total yield of grain from the province will not, it is expected, be a serious one. Practically no injury to crops from insect pests is reported.

The area in the south and southeast of the province reports prospects of the heaviest crop in a number of years and the conditions are ideal for filling and ripening. Sugar beets and the seed cutting of alfalfa are making rapid growth.

While more warm weather would be beneficial, crops in the Peace River and Grande Prairie districts are giving promise of a better than average yield.
A start has been made in haying in many sections of the province and a good crop of both wild and cultivated hay is being cut up. Dairymen and ranchers report that pasture growth is rank and that all livestock is in good condition.
